RICHMOND, Va., October 16, 2007 – The Brink's Company (NYSE: BCO), a global leader in security-related services, today announced that Robert T. Ritter is planning to retire as the company's vice president and chief financial officer and that the company has initiated a search to replace him. To ensure a smooth transition, Mr. Ritter will remain fully engaged with his current duties until his successor is in place and the company's 2007 Form 10-K and 2008 Proxy Statement have been filed.

The company has engaged Crist Associates, a leading executive search firm, to assist in identifying qualified candidates. The search process will include consideration of both internal and external candidates.

Michael T. Dan, chairman, president and chief executive officer of The Brink's Company, said, "Bob's diligence, integrity and wisdom have been instrumental to Brink's success. His important contributions have helped us drive significant growth and value creation as we have transformed The Brink's Company into a highly focused, security-related services company. On behalf of the board and management team, I thank Bob for all of his hard work, dedication and passion over the last ten years. We very much appreciate that Bob will continue to serve Brink's and our stakeholders as CFO until his successor is in place."

Mr. Ritter said, "I am proud of the significant progress that we at Brink's have made. Among other things, we successfully completed a series of major strategic initiatives, including several divestitures that repositioned the company for growth. It has been a privilege and an honor to participate in this very exciting chapter of Brink's history.
